“The Urgent Issue of Sex Education”

Modern “realism” insists upon endless discussion of sex. And extremists always treat the subject emotionally, not rationally.

Without solid information we are at the mercy either of the prudish or the prurient. Here are some reliable, unemotional books on various aspects of the most discussed question in history:

The Hygiene of Sex:

Brief, careful; written in plain terms, with scientific exactness. “Can be recommended unreservedly,” says Medical Woman's Journal. Illustrated. By MAX VON GRUBER. $1.50.

The Invert:

The all-but-forbidden topic of homosexuality is here dealt with by one who is himself a sufferer from this topsy-turvy condition. A new understanding cannot fail to come from a perusal. $2.00.

Problems of Human Reproduction:

The central facts of normal sex life—“just the kind of book that uninformed and misinformed persons of both sexes should read” as F. E. Lumley observes in The Family. And Annals of Clinical Medicine says: “The best of its kind we have seen.” By PAUL POPENOE. $2.50.

Conservation of the Family:

States the biological reason why of monogamy and the family. “Packed with orderly, unsensational valuable facts” says Time. By PAUL POPENOE. $3.00.

Birth Control:

Facts and Responsibilities: A symposium from twelve authorities including C. C. LITTLE, RAYMOND PEARL, ADOLF MEYER, E. M. EAST. What the advocates are asking for and why they ask for it. $2.00.
