"SCIENCE NEWS YEARBOOK 1969/1970... an eye-opening retrospective look at the year
just past in science...you may very well wonder how you ever got along without such an in-depth and comprehensive volume....

"Until now information on the latest scientific developments quickly passed into a scientific limbo. . . . The editors of Science News decided to correct this long-standing deficiency. SCIENCE NEWS YEARBOOK 1969/1970 is the first of a projected series of annual volumes which will provide a comprehensive report on the current year's developments in science. . . . Yet it is more than a reference work; I suggest that you read it also for the sense of wonder it communicates about the here and now of science, for the coherence that it gives to science's many discoveries and conclusions, and for its glimpses of the onrushing future that presses so insistently upon us."

—ROBERT F. SCOTT, The Library of Science

From heart transplants to the Christmas Eve trip around the moon, here in one convenient book is all the latest information in every area of scientific endeavor during 1968, a highly significant year in science. Prepared by Science Service, the only national organization dedicated to improving the public understanding of science, this profusely illustrated record is based on material originally published in Science News and guided through publication by an Editorial Advisory Board of distinguished scientists. The book also includes major awards and prizes for the year and a 20-page index. SCIENCE NEWS YEARBOOK, this year and in years to come, will not only serve as an invaluable reference for students, teachers, and scholars, but will fascinate readers of all ages.

Contents

BIOMEDICINE

Transplants: The Surgical Revolution. Immunology. The Living Cell. Genetics. Pharmacology. Clinical Medicine.

SPACE

Man in Space. Unmanned Exploration. Applications and Technology. Space Programs Abroad. Law on the Space Frontier. Transition.

ASTRONOMY

Galactic and Extragalactic. Cosmology. Solar System. New Observation Opportunities.

PHYSICS AND CHEMISTRY

Particle Physics. Nuclear Physics: Ultraheavy Elements. Solid-state Physics. Plasma Physics: Control of Fusion. Lasers. Chemistry.

EARTH

The Solid Active Earth. Volcanism. Continental Drift. Oceanography. Water and Other Resources. Meteorology.

ENGINEERING AND TECHNOLOGY

Construction and Planning. Civil Engineering. Computers. Communications. Transportation. Engineering Research. Power Production.

ENVIRONMENT AND ECOLOGY
 Pollution. Ecology and Conservation. Agriculture. Herbicides and Pesticides. Bees, Hornets and Moths. Animal Husbandry. Food Production.

BEHAVIORAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

Neurophysiology. Schizophrenia and Depression. Institutional Mental-Health Therapy. Animal Behavior: The Great Apes. Culture and Human Behavior. Testing, Learning and Creativity. Sociology. Archaeology. Anthropology.

SCIENCE POLICY

Research and Manpower. Reorganizing the Effort. Environmental Quality. A Loss of Momentum.

- 10 AAAS: Creation and infrared galaxies; Uses for collagen; Tooth transplant progress; Urbanization changes weather; Artificial teeth; Rivers change abruptly; Water control's geological effects; Therapy for gangrene; Cutting sulfur dioxide pollution
- 12 Chemistry: Decontaminant for aircraft; Submersible thermochemical power; Photosynthesis reaction centers; Cheaper alloying method; Analyzing chemical bonds; Nonflammable foam insulation; Dual fuel system for cars

Scientists have reported a form of water with properties markedly different from conventional water. The existence of this anomalous water does not go uncontested; there are enough skeptics and advocates around to brew up a full-blown scientific controversy. See page 17. (Photo: NBS)

A Science Review in One Complete Authoritative Volume!

400 Exciting Pages
75 Authoritative Articles
24 Pages in Full Color
Over 350 Illustrations

Especially designed for:

STUDENTS who must keep abreast of science progress.

TEACHERS who need a reliable source of scientific knowledge.

EVERYONE interested in the excitement of science today.

THE NEW CITY. Integration of new structures with existing streets and housing projects.

Archeology
Biology
Earth Sciences
Man and His World
Physical Sciences
Psychology
Space Exploration
Technology
Projects and Experiments

THE CITY OF TOMORROW. Will have high-speed bus-trains, super-skyscrapers and mid-town airports.

THE APOLLO 9 MISSION. Astronaut Russell Schweickart operates a camera.

NOW, instead of reading dozens of costly, highly technical publications, you can find all that's new, important and fantastic in this one lavishly illustrated volume. Now you, too, will be able to discuss—with authority—such outstanding and timely subjects as the ones covered by these articles:

OF VIRUSES AND CANCERS—The virus-cancer theory is now respected as it was once scorned.

CURRENTS: THE UNDERWATER RIVERS—A look at the principal currents in our oceans.

PSYCHOTHERAPY—A guided tour to self-discovery.

AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL—Methods of coping with crowded skies.

TIDAL VAGARIES—Why do tides behave the way they do?

THE HONG KONG FLU—An account of the epidemic which affected more than half-a-million people.

PULSARS—The discovery of mysterious radio signals from outer space.

THE SST—A progress report on the three supersonic transports.

CAN THE ELM BE SAVED?—Dutch Elm disease threatens our trees.

COMPUTER TIME-SHARING—One of the most important developments in the use of computers.

AH FOR THE LIFE OF SYBARIS!—Archeologists have uncovered the site of this city which was noted for its wealth and devotion to comfort.

REFLECTIONS ON MIRAGES—What causes these phenomena?

FLIGHTS OF APOLLOS—United States lands men on the moon.

THE APOLLO SPACECRAFT—Descriptions of the service modules.

NORTH AMERICA'S WHOOPING CRANE—Wildlife experts try to save the rare bird.

MUONS THROUGH A PHARAOH'S TOMB—Luis Alvarez hunts for hidden chambers in the pyramids of Egypt.

THE ARTIFICIAL HEART—Description of this device.

REVIVING UP THE ROCK GENERATION—Electronic devices challenge today's musicians.

HEAVY ION ACCELERATORS—New particle accelerators which will help man synthesize new elements.

CITY OF THE FUTURE. A 200-story tetrahedral city designed by R. Buckminster Fuller.

THE ENCYCLOPEDIA SCIENCE SUPPLEMENT

Partial list of articles:

COSMIC RADIATION. By Karl A. Brunstein, Department of Physics, University of Denver. What does cosmic radiation tell us about the structure of the universe?

DEEP-SEA EXPLORATION. By Paul J. Fox and Bruce C. Heezen, Lamont Geological Observatory, Columbia University. A description of research projects that are adding greatly to our understanding of the sea.

BRAIN WITHOUT A BODY? By Nikolai Amasov, noted Soviet scientist, physician and author. Organ transplants are not the province of science alone; involved are ethics, philosophy, even law.

THE UFO REPORT. By Edward U. Condon, Scientific Director, Scientific Study of Unidentified Flying Objects, the University of Colorado. Conclusions of a lengthy study that attempted to learn from UFO reports anything that could be considered as adding to scientific knowledge.

THE COMING OF THE WORLD-WIDE CITY. By Arnold J. Toynbee. The noted British historian and author is concerned that our increasingly artificial environment with its impersonal institutions is putting human beings under an almost intolerable pressure.

MAN IN SPACE. By Loren D. Carlson, Chairman of the Division of Sciences Basic to Medicine, School of Medicine, University of California at Davis. Many physical and psychological problems will face astronauts as they explore the universe.

DRUG ADDICTION AND ABUSE. By Jerome H. Jaffee, M.D., Assistant Professor of Psychiatry, University of Chicago. A timely article on narcotics and their effects on the human body.

ANXIETY NEUROSIS. By Roger Signor, Science Editor, Washington University Magazine. Investigators show that the symptoms of anxiety neurosis can be induced by a chemical.
