Don't search your life away.

Science Citation Index® takes the tedium out of literature searches. Leaves more time for creative thinking.

And that's only part of the story. It's unique from the ground up—from concept to coverage. It answers scores of questions no other research tool can. The kind of questions you need answered.

Only Science Citation Index (SCI)® can tell you quickly, easily, if your idea is original or if someone else has been there first. Whether a theory's been confirmed—or rejected. If a product's been clinically evaluated, or a patent's been cited. What other companies, institutions or researchers are working in a particular field. And what they're working on. If a product's been applied to a new field. What potential uses there are for a new synthesis. Or whether a development has been extended or a method improved. No other information system will answer even a few of these questions.

SCI subject coverage matches its utility. It indexes completely over two thousand scientific and technical journals. Every article, review, letter, correction. Four million individual entries are contained in the latest annual issue. All of them derived from the literature of the past 12 months. And you get all this quarterly, cumulated annually. Weekly up-dating service is also available through ISI's unique ASCA® system.

In short, SCI is a must for information centers and corporate libraries in high technology organizations interested in cutting research time and costs.
