Deals with the theory, design and practical realization of the various types of microphones and loudspeakers used in sound reproduction, telephony, broadcasting and acoustic measurements.

EXERCISE AND CARDIAC DEATH—E. Jokl and J. T. McClellan—Univ. Park Press, 1971, 185 p., illus., $11.50. Monograph presents well-studied cases of sudden cardiac collapse, in spite of seemingly unimpaired physical fitness, in association with physical activity in sports, pilots in flight, and under heat stress.

FEEDBACK MECHANISMS in the Historical Collections of the National Museum of History and Technology—Otto Mayr—Smithsonian (GPO), 1971, 133 p., 145 photographs and drawings, $3.25. Catalog describes historical feedback devices in the form of a continuous narrative.

THE FUTURE OF SCIENCE—Morris Goran—Spartan Bks., 1971, 156 p., $8.50. Discussion focuses on three problems of modern science—communication, financing, and education, using past records as a basis for prognosis.

HANDBOOK OF DRUG INTERACTIONS—Gerald Swidler—Wiley-Interscience, 1971, 384 p., $15. Arranged alphabetically from Acetylcholine to Zylorim, dictionary gives information on the effects of concurrent multiple-drug usage of more than 1300 drugs or classes of drugs.

HANDBOOK OF PRECISION ENGINEERING, Vol. 1: Fundamentals. Vol. 2: Materials—A. Davidson, Ed.—McGraw-Hill, 1971, 423 p., 443 p., photographs, diagrams, tables, $15 each. Vol. 1 deals with the general principles to be observed when designing a product; vol. 2 treats metals, synthetics, glass, ceramics, paper, and auxiliary materials such as glue, lubricants and paints.

MAN ACROSS THE SEA: Problems of Pre-Columbian Contacts—Carroll L. Riley and others, Eds.—Univ. of Texas Press, 1971, 552 p., illus., $12.50. Symposium papers follow a variety of approaches in dealing with the archaeological and linguistic evidence, the evidence of present and historically known distributions of traits, and the special problems of plant and animal distributions.

MANAGEMENT OF FUNGUS DISEASES OF THE LUNGS—Howard A. Buechner, Ed.—Thomas, C. C., 1971, 229 p., photographs, $16. Devoted to the treatment of the various forms of blastomycosis, coccidioidomycosis, histoplasmosis, sporotrichosis, cryptococcosis, aspergillosis and other mycotic disorders.

OF MICROBES AND LIFE—Jacques Monod and Ernest Borek, Eds.—Columbia Univ. Press, 1971, 313 p., illus., $12.50. Collection of short essays, some in French, in honor of André Wolff, Nobelist and long-time head of the Pasteur Institute. Gives some of the flavor and laboratory atmosphere besides describing important research in experimental biology.

MOLECULAR PROPERTIES OF DRUG RECEPTORS: A Ciba Foundation Symposium—Ruth Porter and Maeve O'Connor, Eds.—Churchill (Williams & Wilkins), 1971, 298 p., plates, diagrams, $14. Discussion deals with the pharmacological properties of receptors, the structure of active sites in enzymes, protein binding sites, and isolation and characterization of receptors.

THE NON-MEDICAL USE OF DRUGS: Interim Report of the Canadian Government's Commission of Inquiry—Penguin Bks., 1971, 448 p., tables, paper, $1.65. Examines in detail every dimension of non-medical drug use and drug-related behavior, and offers a thorough account of one country's use of law as a response to the drug problem.
