Their main blessing? Although lovely to look at (as the song . . . goes) they are tempered by a special French hot-cold/hot-cold process that makes them LAST VIRTUALLY FOREVER! The better to survive the hearty, table-thumping and (just as often) head-thumping that takes place towards the wee hours of the morning in the more unsavory student and working-class "dives" that most tourists never get to see (and are probably quite happy not to). The long graceful stems open into generous six-and-a-half-ounce "bowls" that enhance and properly "channel" the bouquet of your favorite wines . . . from driest Chablis to heartiest red Burgundy. They feature the sparkling beauty of blown crystal-clear stemware. And each is absolutely unadorned—the classic configuration—no tasteless designs or tacky "cut-glass" motifs. Whether entertaining guests . . . dining with the family . . . or simply enjoying a late afternoon glass of Madeira and cheese in the quiet of your own study—this is surely the way to enjoy it best!

We were able to arrange this special sale from France—not because the Parisian glassblowers are so crazy about our American accents—but because we ordered, all at once, an unheard-of TEN THOUSAND DOZEN . . . and practically plunked down the entire pile of cash right in front of their wide and staring eyes. (With money changing value over there every 10 minutes, that's almost the only way one can do business now!) Anyway, if you agree that it's CRAZY to spend the $2.00-to-$3.00 per glass asking price for good French stemware these days (or about $25.00 to $35.00 per dozen) you'll jump at the chance to grab these all purpose GENUINE IMPORTED FRENCH WINE GLASSES . . . for (honest) only $11.99 PER DOZEN! (Sorry, limit of 3 to any one address.)
