

DNA The Blueprint of Life

In 1895 American cytologist E. B. Wilson wrote, "... And thus we reach the remarkable conclusion that inheritance may, perhaps, be effected by the physical transmission of a particular chemical compound from parent to offspring."

Although Wilson's amazing insight into the nature of DNA was virtually ignored for almost 50 years we now know that this remarkable molecule is the physical basis of heredity. It is the "gene" ... the "blueprint of all living things from bacteria to man."

Now you can obtain a specimen of highly polymerized DNA embedded in a beautiful, crystal-clear Lucite® block measuring 3 3/4" x 2 3/4" x 1". A truly unique gift idea or conversation piece, it can also serve as a valuable teaching aide at any grade level. It comes gift-boxed with an interesting explanatory booklet.
