

"If a Pulitzer Prize will be given for the best science book of 1979, The Uranium People will surely win it."*

"This book about the fourteen geniuses who created the first nuclear reactor is told by the lone woman of the group, Leona Libby, who was involved in every step of the process. Complete, authentic, delightfully written, the personalities of the men emerge, as well as the step by step processes creating a new scientific field. Heartily recommended."
—*Irving Stone

"A penetrating, dramatic account of the Manhattan Project, full of the excitement and controversy generated by that program...absorbingly suspenseful. The story has been told before, but never more vividly and accurately for the layman by one on the inside."
—Edmund Fuller, The Wall Street Journal

"Her conclusions...provide an opportunity to hear the arguments of those who welcome the nuclear age."
—N.Y. Times Book Review

"I should have been preparing a paper on gamma ray bursts but I couldn't put this book down."
—Edward Teller

"A fascinating, authoritative and important book on the atomic age."
—Luis W Alvarez

"An absorbing story...told with a unique blend of personal anecdote and raw science. With a woman who was there, you live and breathe those days when the world changed forever."
—Fletcher Knebel

MEGALITHS AND MASTERMINDS

Peter L. Brown. "A neat job of describing the excitements and controversies that have come about as traditional archaeological territory has been invaded by engineers, physicists, astronomers and other 'hard' scientists...Brown writes a clear, straightforward prose, condensing scholarly history, fact, and theory."
—Kirkus Reviews. Illustrated.

MYSTERIES OF THE MUMMIES

Edited by Dr. Rosalie David. This fascinating story of the unwrapping of a 2,000-year-old mummy by a team of experts is "a most rewarding book for those who can see beyond the clichéd gruesomeness of bare bones and grinning skulls to the common humanity of reader, scientist and mummy."
—Washington Post Book World. Illustrated in black-and-white and color.

FROM SPARK TO SATELLITE

A History of Radio Communication

Stanley Leinwoll. "Leinwoll delivers what his title promises, and then some. The text is lively, clear, and straightforward. It maintains an unusually good balance between various aspects of the subject."
—Library Journal. Illustrated.

THE CRAB NEBULA

Simon Mitton. "The fascinating tale of the remnant of the supernova of A.D. 1054...Mitton uses the Crab nebula story as a springboard into a popular account of neutron stars, stellar collapse, and X-ray astronomy."
—Sky and Telescope. Illustrated.

ASTRONOMY

An Introduction for the Amateur Astronomer

Jacqueline Mitton. "A well-organized brief basic course in the theories and terms of astronomy."
—Country Journal. Illustrated.

THE INNER PLANETS

New Light on the Rocky Worlds of Mercury, Venus, Earth and Mars

Clark R. Chapman. "The most up-to-date portrait of the four inner planets (and the asteroids) available."
—Library Journal. Illustrated.
