THE AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION HEARTBOOK: A Guide to Prevention and Treatment of Cardiovascular Diseases—Introduction by Richard E. Hurley. A reference book about the major forms of diseases of the heart and blood vessels by well-known authorities in cardiovascular diseases who have reviewed their areas of specialty for the general reader. Dutton, 1980, 370 p., illus. by Ilil Arbel, $25.

ANNUAL REVIEW OF NEUROSCIENCE, Vol 3—W. Maxwell Cowan et al. Eds. Articles discuss such topics as developmental neurobiology of invertebrates and ionic currents in molluscan soma. Annual Reviews, 1980, 428 p., illus., $17.

AT HIGHEST RISK: Environmental Hazards to Young and Unborn Children—Christopher Norwood. Considers the effect of an increasingly toxic environment on the health of the young and the unborn. McGraw, 1980, 280 p., $12.95.

THE AUDUBON SOCIETY FIELD GUIDE TO NORTH AMERICAN ROCKS AND MINERALS—Charles W. Chesterman. Brings together the information a beginner will need to get a start collecting and studying minerals, gems and rocks. Includes color photographs and descriptions of 232 mineral species and 40 types of rocks with keys to their identification. Knopf, 1979, 850 p., color and b&w illus., $9.95.

THE BIOLOGY OF PEACE AND WAR: Men, Animals, and Aggression—Irenäus Eibl-Eibesfeldt, translated from the German by Eric Mosbacher. The primary concern of this book is whether aggressive behavior is programmed into animals and humans by hereditary factors and if so, how. Examines manifestations in different cultures of aggressive behavior, its development in the young, the situations that act as releasing stimuli, as well as the various patterns of aggressive control. Viking Pr, 1979, 294 p., illus., $15.

BLACK KINGDOMS, BLACK PEOPLES: The West African Heritage—Anthony Atmore and Gillian Stacey. This area encompassed a wide range of societies—nomads and forest dwellers, democratically organized tribes like the Ibo and vast autocratic empires such as the medieval kingdom of Mali. This beautifully illustrated book presents the way of life and thoughts of these varied peoples and looks at their unifying elements, attitudes and common beliefs. Putnam, 1980, 128 p., color photographs by Werner Forman, $14.95.

THE COLLECTED PAPERS OF CHARLES DARWIN, Vols 1 & 2—Paul H. Barrett, Ed., foreword by Theodosius Dobzhansky. An anthology of Darwin's shorter articles that was originally published in two separate volumes. Published now together in one paperback volume. U of Chicago Pr, 1980, 603 p., illus., paper, $12.50.

A DICTIONARY OF BOTANY—R. John Little and C. Eugene Jones. Contains approximately 5,500 definitions of terms from all areas of botany. Line drawings enhance the definitions. Van Nos Reinhold, 1980, 400 p., illus., $18.50.

Announcing Radio Shack's New Computer Education Series Part I: "Introduction to BASIC"

Designed to Introduce Students to Computer Programming Fundamentals Using the TRS-80™ Microcomputer

Because Radio Shack has built and sold over 150,000 TRS-80 personal computer systems, many to schools and students, we perceive a real need for formal instruction. Thus we've created a wholly new Computer Education Series for teachers, and now offer its Part I, entitled "Introduction to BASIC." As you may know, BASIC is an acronym for Beginner's All-Purpose Symbolic Instruction Code.

Designed for classroom use with students who have "hands-on" access to TRS-80, the very professional package includes a 400-page teacher's manual, 25 student workbooks and a set of 143 transparencies for standard overhead projectors. (Additional student workbooks may be ordered separately.)

Developed and field tested in public schools over a two-year period, this material is designed for use by all teachers, regardless of previous knowledge of computers and programming.

We believe that in just a few years, people who lack a working knowledge of computers may well be among the educationally disadvantaged portion of the population! Watch for future announcements of additional programs in our new Computer Education Series.

Available Only From Radio Shack — Write for Details!

- Please send more information on Part I: "Introduction to BASIC," TRS-80 computers and other educational programs from Radio Shack.
- I'd like a TRS-80 demonstration — have a representative contact me.
