

A complete "library" on Earth and the planets

THE CAMBRIDGE LIBRARY OF THE NATURAL SCIENCES

You simply agree to buy 3 more books — at handsome discounts — within the next 12 months.

These two magnificent volumes, indispensable reference works for any science library and fabulously beautiful additions to any bookshelf, are yours for only $2.95! Here's what you get:

THE CAMBRIDGE ENCYCLOPEDIA OF EARTH SCIENCES. Edited by David G. Smith. The most comprehensive summary of the present knowledge of the earth sciences yet published covers the worlds of geology, mineralogy, oceanography, biology, and more. 32 scientific authorities present the Earth's story from a general historical survey to the astonishing revelations of the plate tectonics revolution which has caused us to revise the accepted knowledge of centuries. 500 beautiful illustrations, detailed maps, and diagrams — 250 stunning photographs in full color — depict the endless variety of natural phenomena on Earth... from wind-eroded deserts and undulating rivers to earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, and tsunamis. Oversized, 496 pages, 9¾" × 10¾". "One of the most exciting publications to emerge in the past few years... clearly written, beautifully illustrated and surprisingly up-to-date." — Nature. Publisher's Price: $35.00.

THE CAMBRIDGE PHOTOGRAPHIC ATLAS OF THE PLANETS. G.A. Briggs and F.W. Taylor. The culmination of twenty years of space exploration is a fitting testament to man's efforts and achievements in outer space that will be the standard guide for many years to come. The authoritative, narrative text by two leading planetary scientists includes the latest speculations on the origins of the solar system and covers each planet in a full chapter—with extensively captioned photographic maps of the planets. More than 200 magnificent photographs, most in full color, many never before published, are the pick of the NASA archives, and are included in this definitive Atlas. Oversized, 255 pages, 8½" × 11½". Publisher's Price: $24.95.
