Science Service Institution for the public understanding of science founded 1921; a nonprofit corporation.

Board of Trustees—President, Glenn T. Seaborg; Vice President, Gerald F. Tape; Treasurer, Willis Harlow Shapley; Secretary, Julius Duscha; Joseph W. Berg Jr.; Edward Bliss Jr.; Bowen C. Dees; David A. Goslin; Milton Harris; Hilleary F. Hoskinson; Elizabeth F. Neufeld; O.W. Riegel; H. Guyford Stever; John Troan; Deborah P. Wolfe.

Director: E. G. Sherburne Jr.; Assistant Director: Dorothy Schriver; Business Manager: Donald R. Harless.

Dangerous Secrets: Maladaptive Responses to Stress—Michael P. Weissberg. Provides a framework for an understanding of why people do what they do to each other and to themselves. Stress is an essential part of life and we all respond to stress in diverse ways that are sometimes adaptive, sometimes not. Dangerous behaviors are ubiquitous and can affect everyone. Those most frequently encountered are child abuse, incest, spouse abuse, suicide and alcoholism. Norton, 1983, 266 p., $16.50.

Death and the Regeneration of Life—Maurice Bloch and Jonathan Parry, Eds. Focuses on the significance of symbols of fertility and rebirth in funeral rituals in various cultures around the world. Cambridge U Pr, 1982, 236 p., $29.50, paper, $8.95.

A Handbook for Inventors: How to Protect, Patent, Finance, Develop, Manufacture, and Market Your Ideas—Calvin D. MacCracken. Gives the information needed to get your invention to the money-making stage. Shows you how to do it yourself, where to find others to do it for you and how to work with them. Scribner, 1983, 211 p., illus., $14.95.

Psychology's Sanction for Selfishness: The Error of Egoism in Theory and Therapy—Michael A. Wallach and Lise Wallach. A book about selfishness and psychology's role in promoting it. Suggests that "turning outward" constitutes an important contribution to the well-being of both individual and group. WH Freeman, 1983, 307 p., $20, paper, $9.95.

Scientists Confront Creationism—Laurie R. Godfrey, Ed. "There is no escape from the fundamental contradiction between evolution and creationism," says Richard Lewontin in the introduction. "They are irreconcilable world views." This collection of essays by 15 notable scientists sets forth the science that supports evolution. Norton, 1983, 324 p., illus., $19.50.

Thomas Alva Edison: An American Myth—Wyn Wachhorst. Not a biography, this book chronicles the stages in the evolution of a cultural hero, analyzing the factors in Edison's life and character which transformed the man into myth. Its final concern is with the myth rather than the man, the image rather than the reality. Originally published in hardback in 1981. MIT Pr, 1983, 328 p., illus., paper, $8.95.

Cover: A newly developed stain reveals a microscopic silica body embedded in the surface cell of a rice leaf. These silica bodies, or phytoliths, remain behind in the soil after organic matter decays and may be used to identify plant species at archeological sites. (Photo: P.
