

Chimpanzee Politics By Frans De Waal

Chronicles a six-year study of a large zoo colony of chimpanzees, describing such activities as social manipulation to secure influential positions, the formation of social ties, and the ways in which females bring up their children.

Harper & Row, 1983, hardcover, $16.50

In The Shadow of Man by Jane Goodall

A paperback edition of the landmark scientific work that is still a classic on the life of chimpanzees in the wild, and one of the most enthralling stories of animal behavior ever written.

Houghton Mifflin, 1971, paperback, $9.95

The Education of Koko

By Francine Patterson & Eugene Linden

A paperback edition of the story of how Koko, a female gorilla, was taught a vocabulary of more than 600 words in American Sign Language, and how she used these to communicate thoughts, to tease, and even to insult.

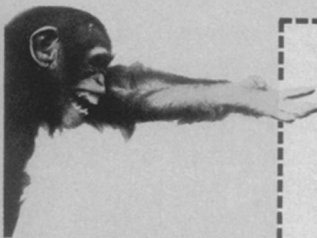

Holt Rinehart & Winston, 1981, paperback, $7.95

The Mind Of an Ape

By David Premack & Ann James Premack

The story of Sarah and a group of chimpanzees and how they were taught a symbolic language through magnetic shapes manipulated on a board. Tells how Sarah, a female, progressed through some of the fullest, most elegant and revealing language tasks ever devised for an animal. W.W. Norton, 1983, hardcover, $14.95
