

The Far Side Gallery

By Gary Larson

“Everything comes to me in one hideous moment.”

—Gary Larson

Things that live in a drop of water, and some of their furniture.

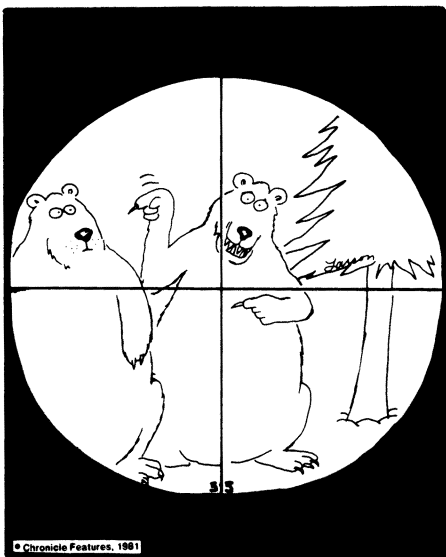

“Let’s see — Mosquitos, gnats, flies, ants . . . What the? . . . Those jerks! We didn’t order stink bugs on this thing!”

Over 600 comic panels plus 8 full-color mini-posters from Larson’s The Far Side, Beyond The Far Side and In Search of The Far Side are brought together in one omnibus collection in The Far Side Gallery.

“Physicists, anthropologists, botanists all seem to feel that Larson’s queer visions are drawn especially for them, that this land of talking amoebas and frogs with bad table manners is somehow familiar terrain. Single panels are taped behind Bunsen burners, to shelves full of chemicals, next to the electron microscope, by the rat chow.”

—from Smithsonian

“Anthropologists! Anthropologists!”

Science News Book Order Service
1719 N Street, NW,
Washington, DC 20036

Please send _____ copy(ies) of The Far Side Gallery. I include a check payable to Science News Book Order Service for $9.95 plus $1.00 handling (total $10.95) for each copy. Domestic orders only.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____
State _____ Zip _____

RB556

Andrews, McMeel & Parker, 1985, 11" x 8½",
208 pages, paperback, $9.95

CORAL KINGDOMS

By Carl Roessler

"The dazzling photographs here frequently divert the reader from an excellent text."

— Publishers Weekly

Countless scenes of under-sea life are described vividly by author-photographer-diver Carl Roessler, who spends many of his waking hours under water. Roessler has witnessed innumerable scenes that shed light on life below the oceans' surfaces. He takes us to the greatest coral kingdoms of the world: the Caribbean, the Red Sea, the Indian Ocean, the multitude of island groups in the South Pacific, the Galápagos, Baja California, Hawaii, Australia and New Zealand and its surrounding islands. In each area Roessler tells us which sites a diver should concentrate on, which are overrated and which may be the greatest diving spots of the future. But this book is not just for divers — it will appeal to everyone who loves nature and is fascinated by the mysterious charms of the undersea world.

Top left, a clownfish navigates through anemones. Top right, fragile water-inflated coral colonies. Center, an iridescent cerianthid glows in the darkness. Bottom left, the touch of the poison-armed tentacles of this anemone leeches the color from a captured grouper.

— from the publisher

Abrams, 1986, 216 pages, 11 1/2" x 9 1/2", hardcover, $35.00

Science News Books
1719 N St., NW, Washington, DC 20036

Please send _____ copy(ies) of Coral Kingdoms. I include a check payable to Science News Books for $35.00 plus $1.00 handling (total $36.00) for each copy. Domestic orders only.

Name _____

Address _____

City _____

State _____

Zip _____

RB 555

