

EXTRAORDINARY ORIGINS OF EVERYDAY THINGS

CHARLES PANATI

"An extraordinary compendium.
... You'll be astonished at an average of once per page."

— Isaac Asimov

How the zipper was one man's attempt to make obsolete not buttons . . . but shoelaces • How the newlywed husband came to the aid of his accident-prone bride with the invention of the Band-Aid.

How the potato chip emerged from an act of pique on the part of an Indian named Crum • How a socialite invented the dishwasher because servants too frequently broke her expensive china • Why April Fool's Day started out as New Year's Eve, a joke in itself.

For lovers of facts, students of popular culture, history buffs and science enthusiasts, the foremost specialist on everything tells how and why hundreds of the everyday items, expressions and customs we take for granted came into existence. Learn the fascinating discovery stories behind over 500 phenomena.
