■ The Story of Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone, home of "Old Faithful," is also the oldest national park and a geologist's dream. The superb camera work reveals the natural wonders that astounded the early mountaineers of the 1840s and captures rare and exciting wildlife footage, the fire of 1988, and the charred park's return to bloom. 64 min.

■ The Story of Yosemite National Park. The last great Ice Age created the dramatic peaks and valleys, roaring rivers and glistening lakes that are the hallmarks of this California park. And the first non-Indian to see it, in 1833, gazed upon trees and groves that sheltered human habitation dating back 4,000 years. This video tells the story of Yosemite, from the people who first saw it to those who had the foresight to protect it for generations to come. 70 min.

■ The Story of Grand Canyon National Park. The remarkable forces of nature are still at work on this 2,000-square-mile spectacle in Arizona, sculpting the monumental scenery that is alive with beautiful and diverse wildlife. Beginning with Major John Wesley Powell's explorations, the historical background of this video is enriched by a never-before-filmed sequence of Shaman's Gallery — a significant find of Anasazi rock paintings dating between 2000 B.C. and A.D. 1. 70 min.

■ Hidden Treasures of America's National Parks. These little-known jewels in America's park system have a history, geology and scenery equal to that of the more well-known parks. This episode features the people, stories and events associated with Badlands, Hot Springs, Sequoia, Kings Canyon, Lassen Volcanic and 12 other scenic parks. 60 min.
